Round Details:

1. Aptitude Round:

This was the first round for Amazon's Internship. It had easy to moderate questions of Logical and Verbal Reasoning, Quants. One can easily ace this round.

It also had a section, where in we had to type an E-Mail on the given situation/problem.

This again, was fairly doable.

The results of this round are communicated soon and a Meet is scheduled on Chime to communicate the further details of Interviews.

2. Interview Rounds: There will be a total of 2 interview rounds further on. The schedule and timings of these will largely depend on the availability of Interviewers. In my case, this was within 2-3 hours gap of each other. Some of my friends had to wait for a longer duration, maybe 2-3 days too.

a. 1st Round: It was conducted on Chime as well, on 22nd February, 2023 between 12:30 PM to 1 PM.

The questions have to be answered using the STAR points-

1. Situation- What was the situation
2. Task- What goal were you working towards?
3. Action: Describe the actions you took to address the situation

4. Result: Describe the outcome of your actions

The questions asked were situation based such as:

Was there any scenario where you made decision with help of Data?

A scenario where you made decisions without sufficient Data being available.

b. 2nd Round: This round was conducted in the same day as well. The time was 5:30 PM to 6:00 PM. Both the interviews for me were pretty short and consisted of 4-5 questions. This round too had similar questions, such as:

A scenario where you helped others.

A scenario where you took help from others.

Tip: They want someone who can deal with dynamic situations and who can lead a team effectively, learning from others at the same time.

The results were communicated after a few months to us. A total of 6 candidates were selected for the Internship. The duration of this internship was from June 19th, 2023 to August 5th, 2023. You may be given PPO too.

MY ROLE AT AMAZON

- The first 1-2 weeks were spent in getting to the learn the Operations and Activities going inside the Warehouse. Mine was a Last Mile Delivery Station, these are very lively throughout the day.
- You will be working with the Alfa Associates the first week, as you will be the ones leading them, you will have to understand their work first.
- Thereby, slowly they transitioned me into handling the Live Data of the deliveries. I also had to maintain a robust communication with the Delivery Partners to keep live track of everything and check for any ambiguities happening.
- My task was to work on the FDDS- First Day Delivery Success Metric. This involves getting the Parcels that come to warehouse on that day, delivered on the same day, i.e. First Day itself.
- I was also assigned some side projects such as HB10 below 2%- the parcels out of delivery should be below 2% by 10 PM. Filling up LMR & RWP, these were related to customer complaints regarding the deliveries.

- These all involved required maintaining a quick working environment within the Last Mile Warehouse, wherein everyone is on their toes as we catered to 13,000 to 20,000 Parcels a day. This depended on whether it was Peak (Sales of Amazon or not).
- Also, maintaining a good communication with the other Team Leads, your Station Manager and the Delivery Partners becomes a crucial part.

LEARNINGS:

1. The most important learning was working in a Corporate setup before getting into a Full-Time role.
2. I learnt various operations on MS Excel while working and sharing the data related to deliveries.
3. You will learn more about working in and with a Team, leading one, managing a dynamic and fast-paced environment, along with maintaining a great communication amongst all those involved in the whole delivery process.
4. You will understand the how exactly the delivery system of Amazon functions.

POINTS TO NOTE:

1. Understand the Job Description very well.
2. The Recruiters from Amazon will clarify that they won't be providing any accommodation or travelling allowance. And the locations are kept PAN India.
3. As per my understanding, these Internship opportunities are provided largely during the Peak season of Amazon, that is when the sales like Great Indian Freedom Festival or Amazon Prime Days are kept. The company requirements increased during times like these.

POSITIVES:

1. A great place for those who want to pursue MBA further on and/or are interested in Operations Role.
2. Employees are offered meal cards (monthly) and refreshments (occasionally).
3. You will meet people from all walks of life. I had to communicate with Hearing Impaired people as well, so these are some things that you will learn.
